

ALYSIA

BY LIVERAS YACHTS

If you want to take a cruise, there are endless options but you're joining strangers. If you want to buy a yacht, you'll probably sacrifice size for privacy. But if you want to experience one of the largest yachts available for charter in unprecedented luxury and privacy, Liveras Yachts' Alysia is the clear choice.

The 280-foot yacht has nearly 26,000 square feet of guest space, five decks and a crew of 34 to accommodate up to three dozen guests. The lower deck is a beauty and fitness paradise, with salons for hair, nails, facials and massages, steam rooms and saunas. The upper deck has separate seating areas, plasma screens, card tables and a movie cinema. The on-board chef and crew can create just about any type of cuisine to suit a variety of palates at any hour, and a full garage of water toys like wave runners and diving equipment will provide hours of entertainment. The guest staterooms are impressive, but the master bedroom offers more than 1300 square feet of luxury, including a Jacuzzi, private study, panoramic windows, separate male and female dressing rooms and a private deck. Everything, from formal dinners to conferences to late-night parties, is ready to be fulfilled throughout your stay.

Mediterranean, Caribbean, South Pacific and Indian Ocean itineraries are available. A minimum 7-day stay ranges from $650,000 for up to 12 guests to $880,000 for 36 guests (based on current exchange rates). Some expenses not included.
